Victorian First division club Western Suburbs hopes to have Greek super-star Mimis Papaiouannou in its team within the next South Melbourne Hellas is willing to listen to offers for Alun Evans providing the offers are for around $30,000.

It may sound a lot by Australian standards but it's chicken feed compared with transfer fees that were paid for Evans in England.

For example, Liverpool paid Wolves 100,-000 pounds for him when he was only 17. Later Aston Villa paid 75,000 pounds for Evans has six England under 23 caps and can boast of having scored a hat-rick for Liverpool in a European Cup match against none other than the great Bayern Munich, featuring Gerd Mueller, Uli Hoeness, Paul Breitner and the other German super-stars. Evans announced a few weeks ago that he wanted a transfer from South Melbourne Hellas but when Duncan McKay took over as coach and when Hellas started winning agoin, it appeared Evans may have changed his mind.

But Evans said this week he is

If Evans does transfer for the $30,000 the club wants for him, it wil lnot be a record. West Adelaide paid $45,000 to Arsenal for John Kosmina, Jim Hermiston's transfer from Grange Thistle to Brisbane Lions was worth about $30,000 and APIA paid $40,000 for former Bologna ace Rosario Rampanti.

Kosmina to meet the strong

National coach Rudi Gutendorf will add Col Bennett (Brisbane Lions) and John Kosmina (West Adelaide) to the Socceroos who will meet New Zealand in Auckland next Wednesday.

The squad will comprise mainly the players who. In the colors of NSW beat Norwich 4-1 in Sydney two weeks ago. Some of them – like two Prskalo Tomy Henderson and John Stevenson – do not qualify criticenship, but Gutendorf will not worry about that until be chooses the Olympic squad after the NZ game.

The players for the two Olym-pic qualifying matches against Taiwan in Indonesia in July have to be either Austrelian born or naturalised.

Gutendorf said this week that Kosmina and Bennett would probably be in the Olympic squad and that he would probably add South Melbourne's Alan Davidson.

Gutendorf is also considering Footscray's young midfielder Zoran Ilioski.

Other players certain to be in the Olympic squad are Steve O'Connor (Sydney City), Mark Jankovic, Peter Sharne, Eddie Krncevic, Gary Byrne (Marconi), Greg Woodhouse (APIA) and Tony Brennan (Brabane Liona).

Players like Stuart Baxter, brennan been used by Gutendorf in trial matches, are not Austrollan citizens and therefore are ineligible to play in the Olympic matches.

Gutendorf will name the national youth squad at the same time he announces his Olympic squad The youth squad will be prepared for the finals of the Coca-Cola world youth championships to be held in Australia in 1981.

Gutendorf will also name a national under 16 squad for a tournament in Singapore in December.

Newcastle KB United coach Alan Vest, a former New Zea-land World Cup player, will be Gutendorf's assistant for the match against New Zealand next week.

The Socceroos will fly to Auckland on Tuesday and return on Thursday.

A return match will be played in Canberra, probably on July 25. New Zealand has named a powerful squad, featuring Tony Sibley, Adrian Elrick, Brian Turner, Steve Sumner and Keith Nelson who played against Australia in the 1977 World Cup elimination games.

The Kiwis' coach, John Adshead, has included-Dunedin City goalscorer Steve Wooddin, a 24-year-old from Liverpool, although Wooddin is not a naturalised New

Weinstein hits back

The chairman of the Victorian Soccer Federation, Michael Weinstein, has hit back strongly at statements made in 'The Age' by PSL chairman Sam Papasavas about tours by Norwich City and Wisla Krakow.

About tours by Nortwich city and when Krakow.

Mr. Papsavas was quoted as saying the Federations had scraped the bottom of the barrel in inviting Norwich and that the PSL should not have agreed to a two-week break in its competion to accommodate such teams.

Mr. Weinstein said he was "amazed and bewildered" that such statements had been made by "an official who should know better.

To say the federations were scraping the bottom of the barrel inviting a well-known UK team like Norwich City and continental teams like Wisla which reached the semi-finals of the European Cup, is most insulting." Mr. Weinstein said.

"The VSF has always tried to bring to the public ablance of soccer styles. These games appeal to the public as a whole and not just to one section.

"It seems to me Mr. Papsasavas changes his mind as often as the weather changes in Mel-hourne.

"When Wisla visited us he was critical of the Vic-torian State team selection, stating certain South Melbourne players were not included. Now he says we shouldn't have played against Wisla.

"It was he who was responsible for bringing for-morth that the played against Wisla.

"It was he who was responsible for bringing for-morth that was the was responsible for bringing for-morths to enable overseas teams to be accom-modated, yet now he criticises the break, saying two weeks is too long.

"I want to make it clear Mr. Papsasavas does not speak on behalf of the PSL or even on behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user, no behalf of the three Victorian PSL of user.

"I am quite sure that the visit of Partizan Belgrade in two weeks' time will be a great success and that thousands of people will take the opportunity to go and have a look at the team, especially in the metch against Victoria which has impressed in its past few games."

For the record, details of those games are:

Footscray lined up without Peter Ollerton, who was suspen-ded because he had notched a maximum of penalty points, and Mende Ristovski.

It is not clear whether Ristovski is in dispute with the club or injured.

The game opened briskly, with Zdravko Lujic creating trouble for Steve Perry – a situation which was to con-tinue throughout the match. In one of his early raids, Lujic hit the side netting.

Brisbane City's tall striker Barry Kolso headed narrowly over the goel with the Footscray defence all at see, as the game developed into an enter-taining, end-to-end struggle with both teams creating some promising moves.

Footscray's breakthrough came in the 32nd minute. Andrija Ristic took a free kick on the right and the ball bounced in the penalty area before Zoran illoski spun around and crashed an unstoppable drive past the bewil-dered Wishart for his third goal in as many games.

With their tails up, the JUST players continued to press and were rewarded two minutes later when Dragan Vasi-intercepted Steve Perry's backpass and poked the ball past Wishart to Joe Pi cioane to gleefully finish off the move.

JUST's more direct play and en-thusiastic running, particularly from midfielders liloski, Picioane and Mirko Rujevic, enabled the Blues to continue dominating play.

Just before half time, however, a bad slip by Radoslav Jovicic on the right wing allowed the ball to be crossed to Kelso, whose shot was saved desper-ately by Steve Potter.

Early in the second half Potter again folled Kelso.

Ilioski had a powerful shot turned past the post in the 54th minute and from the resultant corner, Jim Kondarios headed narrowly over the bar.

Play became scrappy but as Brisbane City's midfield became more prominent the visitors managed to worry the Foot-scray defence.

City centre backs Potter and Ratcliffe started to advance further up the field but although J.U.S.T. had dost a great deal of tis initiative. City was leaving itself open for counter-attacks.

This was obvious when Joe Palinkas ran clear and stroked the ball towards the open goal, only to see Wilkinson clear it for a corner.

Vasic missed with his kick right in front of goal and, from an Ilioski corner, Konarios headed past the post with the goal at his mercy.

In another Palinkus-inspired break FootScray had four attackers against two defenders. Palinkus unselfishly passed to Vasic who miskicked in a scoring position.

It was a bad day for City but the team has many talented players and should recover quickly from the set-back of this

What looked like being a very ordi-nary game after a very dull first half, it suddenly burst to life in the 64th minute when Stevenson put the visitors in front with a shot from the edge of the penalty area, after the Newcastle defence failed to clear the ball following a corner.

The locals did not take long to get back on level terms —three minutes in fact — when Arno Bertogna pounced on a loose ball, served the unmarked Ken Boden and "Mister Cool" did not have any trouble to beat the advancing Todd Clarke.

From then on, the game erupted into a titanic struggle with both teams striving to get the winning goal, with Sydney City's chance coming in the 84th minute and Drinkwater coming to

With the score locked at one all the end of the regulation ninety minu extra time was ordered and the remiling thirty minutes were certainly with admission price.

The game had turned into a typical cup its with some torrid encounter especially in the midfield and referee Stuarr Mellings had his hands full to keep the shaution under control and. In the process, issued four yellow cards. Second half replacements for both sides played big parts in the finish.

Ultimately it was United that bro the deadlock in the 111th minute.

A Col Curran free kick from deep on the left was headed down by Beriogna to Grahame Heys, whose shot was par-ried by Clarke into the path of Bill Sum-merscales, who had no trouble tapping it home for the winner.

It was a very gutsy performance by Newcastle and Allan Vest had every reason to be pleased after the game, the side having reached the semi-finals of the Philips Cup for the second Brisbane Lions continue to hover perilously close to the bottom of the league after Heide berg came and easily conquere with a 3-1 win.

In yet another forgettable match, which is helping to keep crowds in Brisbane down. Lions gave themselves no chance of continuing their two-match successes before the interruption of the Philips Cup, which seemed likely to help them draw clear of the danger zone.

Neither side set the world on fire. The passing from both was atrocious but Heidelberg deserved the points for taking what chances were on offer.

New Heidelberg cosch, Manny Pou-lakakis, surprised by naming Jimmy Rooney on the bench but it mede little difference, as Jim Campbell and Kenny Taylor were able to make their presence felt for most of the match.

The Lions defence had some horrible moments and Barrie Fairbrother was the pick of a forward line which rarely threatened danger.

Paul Laszlo continues to play with little spirit and he again was a virtual

Tony Brennan did not appear fully fit and was subsequently replaced and the ony time he left his mark on the meto was when he waitzed past three tack-lers and unleashed a tremendous shot, which Yakka Banovic brillantly saved.

Paul Untong pushed through a good hall, which Bob Provan should have cleared and Fairbrother rounded him easily and hammered past Banovic.

But only two minutes later Heidel-berg were back on level terms, with a good opportunist goal, which began with Taylor intercepting a Greham Witson pass.

Taylor chipped left of the box, there was hesitation at the back and Cole nipped through to lob over the advancing Neil Lownds.

To be honest, Heidelberg did not hish the first half any better than one yet were able to go in with a 2-1 ad through an element of luck from roually a nothing situation.

Branko Buljevic motored down the left and with Col Bennett ready to tack-le, attempted a chip into the goalmouth, the ball sliced off Bannett's out-stretched leg and the hapless defender watched the ball spoon over Lownds, who was caught a little off his line.

Patton replaced Bozikas at halftime and with his first touch of the ball amost put Heidelberg further ahead from right. In front. Lons just missed the goal they really needed in the 48th minute when Faufrouther ahot well, but Laszlo got in the way and Brennan, with another chance to capitalise, shot wide.

Heidelberg produced the better chances for the remainder of the half and it should have been 3-1 in the 56th minute when Cole and Paton played a neat one-two, for the latter to race away and have bits shot squeezed for a comer by young Wilson, who traded places with Lawrie and dropped into the sweeping position.

Brennan's blistering shot raised Lions' hopes but then consistent full-back Arthur McMillan made a forceful burst down the right but found no one in support when he crossed. McMillan had an outstanding match before being carried off late with serious ligament trouble core missed his best chance for Hel-delberg midway through the half when he and Paton broke away, confronted by only Bennett but Cole tried to go it alone and shot without conviction as The third Heidelberg goal eventually came eight minutes from fulltime when Buljevic rattled a long range free kick off Lownds' chest and Paton followed up to tap the gift chance in.

Former Liverpool ace ian Callaghan showed several fine touches in his first PSL match and is obviously a player of great class. His passing was immaculate. On at least three occasions he split Adelaide's defence with superb 35 metre cross field passes.

John Davies and Isaac Farrell were also in good touch and were a constant worry to Adelaide. Canberra had the first real chance of the match in the twenty ninth minute, when Farrell speared the ball through the defence for Jim Cant but the pass was too deep end Peter Marshall raced off his line to intercept.

Just a minute later, Dixie Deans should have socred after Chris Kent prise-3 open the defence but he clipped the ball wide of the near post.

lan Calaghan was brought down just inside Adelaide's half and from the free kick the ball was driven into the penalty area where Danny Moulis shot pow-erfully for a shock goal. The goal severely dented Adelaide's confidence. Its passing deteriorated, players got in each others way and it looked a very ragged outfit.

Deans and Dods blew a good chance in the fifty first minute but they got tan-gled up and Canberra's defence steered the ball to safety. Moments later, Nyskohus pased back for a team mate but, unfortunately there was no Adelaide player in sight and another attack was broken down.

Kent was also having problems with his passing on the left flank. But then coach Rele Rasic made an important substitution. He brought on teenage midfielder Charley Villani and took off John Besir.

The crowd didn't like the substitution as Besir had been playing reasonably well. In the 75th minute, Agenor Muniz split Canberra with a goalmouth pass and Villani was on the spot to rifle it past Steve Hoszowski.

National coach Rudi Gutendorf has threatened to suspend all preparatory trial games until he was guaranteed more co-operation from clubs, players and in some cases State Federation officials.

The increasing emphasis on the development and use of Australian-born players has put the quality of coaching into the spotlight. This article explores coaching in Australia.

When Eric Worthington.
director of coaching, got the national coaching, got the national coaching scheme under way five years ago he said 10,000 coaches would have gained a coaching badge by the end of this year. Problems which beset the scheme in its early days have put him behind target.

He expects to have 6,000 certificated coaches by the end of the year.

ASF president, Sir Arthur George, revealed recently that there are 318,000 boys playing soccer in this country.
The 6,000 coaches qualifield since 1975, each taking a 12 boy squad would be able to handle 72,000 boys.
If one is charitable and assumes that 46,000 of these boys are being coached by previously qualified coaches, that still leaves 200,000 of our juniors in the hands of unqualified and probably unknowledgable coaches.
Many of these will be fathers forced into the position because no one else would do the job.
The effect of this undesirable situation is the devastating lack of skill witnessed on junior soccer fields all over the country.
It all starts with the full length games of 'kick and chase' from age six.
This is carried through until the boys are men and in most cases they still cannot control a ball or pass it properly.

without the intervention of a knowledgeable coach these boys never learn the joy of skilful soccer.

I welcome the increased interest in junior soccer by our soccer authorities and the senior clubs which I hope will eventually increase the skill level in the junior games.

Most of us are aware that junior coaching needs improving, but Victorian State coach. Len McKendry, caused a stir recently with his scathing remarks about the lack of basic knowledge of many of our senior coaches. He said many of them did not possess the basics needed for coaching soccer and this was the reason that so many of them were losing jobs.

This statement does not

I am not sure what Len McKendry means when he talks about the basics of coaching.

I suspect he is talking about the ability to teach individual skill and group skill.

I agree with him that many of our senior coaches are not able to do this very well, on the other hand our part time set up does not encourage work on the development of individual and group skill.

Additionally teaching skills sonly part of a coach's role. Here is what I consider are the basics of coaching:

* development of individual and group skill.

* ability to select correct teams (which means being able to know who can play, and were they can play, and were they can play, and were they can play, and set of the set of the fitness

* individual and group motivation.

The first of these criteria is worked on under our national coaching scheme.

From time to time there are short courses on physical fitness.

The other coaching basics are little touched upon.
This also applies in the UK, where the coaching emphasis is on individual and group skill.

is on individual and group skill.

Even in Europe where the formal development of a coach is far more thorough and long lasting, much is still left to the individual coach.

To increase my ability in such things as the development of team style, match tactics, and motivation I rely on my own experience, various readings of coaching manuals and trips overseas to meet with top coaches such as Jock Stein, Jack Charlton and Germany's Haunes Weisweiller.

huge turnover of senior coaches.

In the Philips League are clubs previously perennially used to being at the top.

Consequently any coach with his team outside the top four is in dire danger of losing his job.

This mentality is also now seeping its way through into the various State Leagues.

Amcliffe Scots in the NSW State leagues is now on its third coach this season. Its initial coach, Kaz Kulak, is qualified and experienced, but this season was unsuccessful, so he went.

So far in Philips League, St George has had five coaches. West Adelaide five, Heideberg five, South Melbourne and Brisbane Lions four each, Rrisbane City and Sydney Olympic five each, Adelaide City three.

Only Newcastle and Sydney Olympic five each, Adelaide City three.

Only Newcastle and Sydney City have not changed their coach.

Take the case of one of these coaches, Dave McLaren.

McLaren experienced all of the pressures which now make a coach's position so unstable in Australia:

* Player power — where key players undermine the coach's authority.

* spectator power-where spectators, sometimes organised by outsiders, harrass and criticise the coach.

I will stick my neck out and tip Marconi to be league champion of 1979, despite some topsy-turvy results early in the year.

Brilliant one week, average the following, was a start that most the coloniant was a start that most the second, and by Brisbane Lions in the second. Marconi did not look like being in the chase for honours, but the club came back with a vengeance. Sydney City, certainly Marconis greatest foe in the title received a start of the coloniant was a start of the coloniant with the coloniant was a start three-pointer of the season. Four wins and three draws followed in the great revival that saw the team leap to top spot with 16 points. South Melbaum was beaten 6:0, while last year's league champion West Adelaide, was also crushed by Marconi in front of its home crowd. The pattern is slightly different to that of the previous years but the two at the top are still Marconi and Sydney City. This time, I feel Marconi will-have an edge on its local rival.

Nothing illustrates Marconi's rapid progress more clearly than a comparison between the club's present home and the old tin shed (insert) in Trivett Street, Horsley Park, where the club's first general meeting was held on September 9, 1957.

ghty Marconi: this

At the back, one couldn't wish for a better pair of hands than those of Alian Maher. Spider' is in great form this season and was certainly a strange omission from the Australian squad.

Marconi's back line has conceded 13 goals so far and that, you might say, is not such a good record. Well, if you have to score 27 goals in order to concede 13 it's not such a bad record at all, and Marconi did score 27, which is six more than the nearest rival. At the same time the divals have conceded just as many or one or two goals less.

With Brogan, Russell, Prskalo and Degney, the back line has a lot of speed and skill and, most important, has that essence of understanding. The four players have been together for a couple of seasons and that is sufficient to create much-needed cohesion when the pressure is on.

Henderson-Vieri-Byrne is by far the most attractive midfield line-up in the PSL and certainly the most creative so far in this year's competition.

gue. With Bertie Mariani, Ken Lindsay. Stewart Selvage, Domigo Lelamo, Barry Jones and Mike Berry waiting for a chance to jump into the first 11. Marconi certainly has the depth necessary to keep up the mo-mentum and continue to press for the top spot.

But, what about last year, you may ask.

Marconi led by six points and looked certain to carry the title. With Byrne, Rooney and Vieri supporting a very fast attacking trio of Mariani, Jankovic and Sharne, Marconi looked odds on to do it easily.

Alas, things never go as planned if the spirit of the team is shall be spirit at a scrift which are the spirit of the team is the spirit of the team is shall be spirit of the spirit of

Only two years after the official opening of the club, a youth soccer team was formed. The first president was Felice Zadro, while the other promoters of the idea included Lorenzo Sartoretto, Luciano Morassut, Giuseppe Cessario, Angelo Cattarin and Dennis Munari.
In 1961, Antonio Fornasier became president of the youth club and also took the position of representative of Marconi soccer club in the Southern Districts Soccer Association. Armando Del Caro was the first coach of the side the same year and was largely responsible for the success of the team.

In 1967, Marconi soccer club became an independent body, completely detached from the Social Club taking the name of Marconi Southern Districts Soccer Footbland Club. The first president was Mir Joe Morizzi, while Luciano, Marson became the first vice-president.

The club continued its good form and Mr Vasvary was signed to continue as coach for another season. Fifth place in the competition was the club's most successful achievement in the Second Division.

Les Scheinflung decided to quit Prague and move to Marconi in 1969, certainly a move that started a new era at Bosley Park. Marconi won the Second Division championship (1970) and became a member of the First Division of the NSW-SF championships.

TO THE MARCONI CLUB 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Congratulations to the Marconi Club and all its members on its 20th Anniversary.

The Marconi Club has provided not only a sporting club, but a social and entertainment centre not only for the Italian community but for other ethnic groups as well ouring the past 20 years.

While in financial terms, survival has been difficult for your Club, particularly during its early years I believe it to the credit of the Club you now have some 5,000 members and an annual turnover of around $2 million.

Your club is properly named after the man whose ntion brought people all over the world closer together agh radio communication and indeed communication with the unity is an important aspect of the Club's work.

The necessity for a sponsor was evident, and Marconi was certainly not short of offers.

FIATRUCKS of NSW, the Australian retail division of FIAT Automotive Industries, a fully owned subsidiary of the giant international group FIATI/VECO (Industrial Vehicles Corporation) and the world's second-largest manufacturer of heavy commercial vehicles, came up with a six-figure sum to sponsor the team over the next three years.

The joint announcement came at a club luncheon, just before the game between Marconi and South Melboume.

Club Marconi earlier this year embarked on a nine-month project for extending its building and facilities that will cost the best part of $750,000. the Philips League championship.
FIATRUCKS could not have come to the fore at a better time. Mr Angelo Bagatella, Club Marconi president, expressed deep appreciation for the generosity of Fiatrucks, while Tony Labbozzetta, the Socser chairman of Club Marconi expressed his delicht at the sponsorphin delight at the sponsorship with the following short ad-

Ajax goal came after a good piece of play. David Perkins, who had a quiet game, was on hand to finish off the move.

Ajax played a 4-4-2 formation and reshuffled several players. Mick Klarin went from centre back to midfeld and had an outstanding match.

John Patten came back into the team as sweeper, and played alongside John Cain. These two played in this partnership for most of last season.

Steve Critiv earned himself a place after a good display against Preston Makedonia last week.

Wooddin as a key player in Now Zealand. "What I like about him is his tight control in the penalty rare and his exposive shot. He wants to play for New Zealand, and that's important."

Adshead added: "If we are going to best Australia, it is this time. They're experimenting in a big way and I feel we can put it across them while they are rebuilding."

New Zealand will play two international games against Flji in between its two clashes with Australia. The games are in Suson June 29 and in Lautoka on July 1.

Adshead said: "The invitation couldn't have been better timed. If we best Australia at Newmarket Park (Wednesday), well have something to build on for the return match. If we lose the first game, we'll have to dismantle the squad and rebuild.

"In either case, the two Figil matches will give us the chance to experiment under realistic conditions."

with Michael Morley

Australian Soccerpools did not have its match list printed in time for nclusion in this week's column, so there's no way I can made predict-ons about specific matches.

Here's a planned entry to cover 22 matches of your choice. It will involve six entries of system 12 and at $1.50 each. The investment dicates where the members like using a large amount of selections.

You will note the blank line in the diagram for your mach numbers.

Choose your 22 matches and then reading from left to right put your best two selections in the first two spaces of the diagram. It doesn't matter in what order you place your remaining selections.

When you have marked all your selections on the blank line, use the corresponding X's as

★ committee instability — where committees, feeling their own positions are in jeopardy, react to player and spectator influence.
★ Falling revenue — dropping gates causing pressures on overcommitted finances. In Britain Chelsea's Danny Blanchflower saw his side relegated this season, but asked for a four year contract which is being seriously considered.

That situation can only be fantasy in Australia.
Most clubs lack long—term targets and the long-term planning that goes with them.

Most live from week to week, just as does the coach in the Philips league had multiple qualifications spilling out of his tracksuit, here would still be half of them looking for new jobs at the end of each season.

No one can say that McLa-ren did not know the basics, or Edmund Kreft, Bruce Sto-well or Gelei. Probably one of a coach's greatest gifts is to be able to get onside with his com-mittee members and espe-cially the president - and no coaching instructor with his book of basics teaches that. What Australia needs just as much as good coaches is good administrators who can set up and achieve long term
